BRIEF

Design and make a piece of furniture that will store a variety of items and have a large surface area for small products. Suit the users needs and be manufactured within a given time scale. The product must be marketable and issues relating to sustainability and the environment must be considered.

CONTEXT

People want durable furniture and would not cost a lot of money. Storing items can be difficult and storage space can often take up a lot of room. So people want products that have enough surface space and that doesn't take up a lot of space.
